FOREWARD

This publication represents the second edition of The Directory of Labour Organizations in Manitoba. The first edition was published in January 1981 with a supplement completed in May 1981.

The directory has been produced to provide a convenient reference document of the unions and employees' associations operating in the province, and to provide basic statistical information on union membership and affiliation.

Most of the information regarding union membership in Manitoba was derived by Statistics Canada under the Corporations and Labour Unions Returns Act (CALURA). These figures were supplemented by data in Manitoba Labour files and by telephone follow-up. The figures reported in this document relate to the year 1982. It is intended that a supplement will be published within the next six months which will provide 1983 union membership data.

Every effort has been made to provide an up-to-date listing of labour organizations in the province. Your assistance in pointing out any errors or omissions will be appreciated. Please contact:

SUMMARY

As of January 1982 there were 149,951 trade union and employees' association members in Manitoba. This total repersents a 2.1 percent decrease from the 1981 total of 153,099. The 1982 membership is broken into three components: 77 national and international unions which had a membership of 138,995; four Canadian Labour Congress directly chartered organizations which represented 42 members; and 69 independent local labour organizations with a membership of 10,914.

These 149,951 union or employees' association members represent 30.2 percent of the 1982 average Manitoba labour force or 38.9 percent of the paid non-agricultural workers in the province in 1982.

The union with the largest membership in the province in 1982 was the Canadian Union of Public Employees (CUPE) with 16,265 members. The second largest union was the Manitoba Government Employees' Association with 16,185; third was the Manitoba Teachers' Society with 12,669 members; fourth was the United Food and Commercial Workers with 9,146 members; and fifth was the Public Service Alliance of Canada with 8,750 members. Table 2 in the report shows the 1981 and 1982 membership and rank for all unions with a membership of 2,000 or greater.

Approximately seventy-four percent of Manitoba unions were affiliated with a national and/or international congress or confederation of unions in 1982.

In Part 1 of this directory, those labour organizations falling under provincial jurisdiction are denoted by a single asterisk. Approximately 123,455 members are represented in 1982. Two asterisks denote unions under federal jurisdiction and represent approximately 23,689 members. Unions having locals falling under both provincial and federal jurisdiction are denoted by three asterisks and had approximately 2,807 members in 1982.

The following changes in structure or affiliation of international and national unions operating in Manitoba have taken place since the 1980 Supplement to Labour Organizations in Manitoba was prepared.

1. The Energy and Chemical Workers Unions (CLC) was formed by the merger of the Canadian membership (District 9) of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers' International Union (AFL-CIO/CLC) and the Canadian Chemical Workers Union (IND.).

2. As a result of the suspension by the Canadian Labour Congress of its 12 building trades affiliates on May 1, 1981, a new congress called the Canadian Federation of Labour was formed. The following nine unions have joined the new congress:
   (i) International Association of Heat and Frost Insulators and Asbestos Workers
   (ii) International Union of Bricklayers and Allied Craftsmen
   (iii) International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers
   (iv) International Union of Operating Engineers
   (v) International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Shipbuilders, Blacksmiths, Forgers and Helpers
   (vi) International Union of Elevator Constructors
   (vii) International Brotherhood of Painters and Allied Trades
   (viii) Sheet Metal Workers' International Union
   (ix) United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe-Fitting Industry of the United States and Canada.

3. The Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen has changed its name to the Canadian Signal and Communications Union.
